Andrew: your attempts to subvert dave from seeing treme have failed

Andrew: also, you are the world's biggest fag me: treme?

Andrew: the new orleans show you didnt watch

Andrew: then bitched about me: oh, right me: that thing I actually did watch

Andrew: oh, im sorry, my bad

Andrew: name one character, plot point or set from the entire 80 minute episode me: okay

Andrew: in fact, name anything about that show except the title

Andrew: and the john goodman scene you incessantly mock me: started out on a neighborhood block, everyone is marching and playing instruments, black musician arrives in cab but can't pay full fare...

me: ... cab driver, in spirit of camaraderie for which NO is allegedly known, lets him slide for now me: meanwhile me: this white stoner douchebag has big dreams me: and New Orleans needs more federal assistance but they're just not getting it, damnit!

me: the fellow works as a disk jockey me: though he considers himself a musician me: his wife is critical of their lifestyle

Andrew: you spliced to entirely different scenes together, but ill give you credit anyway me: and station in life me: yes, what you mean is that I described several different scenes, so thanks for giving me credit for doing what was asked me: so me: anyway

Andrew: you're only hurting yourself me: there's more, but I'm talking to one of my hos me: fuck that show

Andrew: fuck your hos me: fuck scripted drama

Andrew: and dwarf fortress

Andrew: excuse me me: you just crossed a line

Andrew: new orleans scripted drama me: sorry, sir

Andrew: are you moving to johns?

me: at some point me: probably first of next month me: also going to stay with Catalina for a period me: and probably this Asian chick

Andrew: why?

me: perhaps even Mel for a little while me: need time to find a good place

Andrew: tired of living off a couch?

me: want to make sure I have a nice set-up, plus I've been too busy to see my various friends lately due to work stuff and camping out at people's living rooms will be fun

Andrew: i guess not

Andrew: no, why are you leaving mirna's?

me: She doesn't like this place, and wants to live somewhere nicer and more expensive me: whereas i'd prefer a cheaper living arrangement me: plus, I may actually stay with Mel for a few weeks since he owes me months of free living space me: save up my money so i'll be moving in to new place with a nice cash reserve
